SCDCA UNVEILS NEW WEB ADDRESS

The South Carolina Department of Consumer Affairs has a new web address:

www.scconsumer.gov

The new URL (Uniform Resource Location) will replace the old address (www.state.sc.us/consumer) immediately. Consumers that go to the old address will be redirected to the new site. "We're really excited about the new URL," said Anna Albers, Director of Web Services. "The new address will be easier to remember and more user-friendly. We're looking to do a lot more on the web this year."

Consumers use the site to file complaints and download educational information; businesses routinely download forms and regulation information. In addition to information contained on the previous site, such as the Buyer Beware List and the Consumer Alert newsletter, the new site will soon feature a new look, as well as more detailed information on agency divisions and their services.
